EDITORIAL

We hope that the many unforgettable events that occurred during the past year have been recaptured through the publication of this Book and will, therefore, remain with us forever.

In the years to come, this Book, probably yellowed with age and handling, will serve as a link between Yesterday and Today.

I want to express my sincere appreciation on behalf of the Yearbook Staff to all those whose contributions made this Yearbook possible, and especially to Sister Cecilia who gave so willingly and unselfishly of her time and equipment.

HISTORY OF ST. JOSEPH'S GENERAL HOSPITAL

Vegreville developed very rapidly, being one of the most important market places in Northern Alberta. Urgent need of a hospital was experienced by the whole community. For this reason, in 1910, at the request of the local priests, four Sisters were sent to start a hospital by the Superior General of the Sisters of Charity of Our Lady of Evron, France. Sister Josephine Boisseau, our present and beloved Superior, was one of the four and played a very important role in the development of both the hospital and school of nursing. These devoted pioneers arrived in Vegreville early in October, anxious to start their noble task in Canada—that of dedicating their lives to the service of the sick. A private home was kindly placed at their disposal and three weeks after their arrival on November 2, their first patient was admitted in this 8-bed emergency hospital. One morning four cases of Scarlet Fever were brought in. As space did not permit isolation, tents were set up close to the hospital.

October 21st, 1911 brought much excitement in the hospital. Doctors, Sisters and nurses were seen busily transporting patients and equipment to the new 40-bed brick hospital which was being opened. It was approved in 1926 by the American College of Surgeons. With the increasing number of patients a new problem arose—the need of more beds. This was taken care of by the building of a wing in 1934. Gradually the same situation was encountered. There were crowded wards, patients in the hall. To facilitate efficient nursing care, another wing was built in 1937, and another one in 1951. In the latter is found a modern chapel where everyone, Sisters, Staff and Patients, can satisfy their devotions in the peaceful atmosphere which it offers.

In 1915 attempts were made to establish a School of Nursing at St. Joseph's General Hospital. In November the first two students were accepted with Sister Josephine Boisseau as Superintendent and instructor. On March 25th, the Nurses proudly took the uniform which consisted of an ankle-length blue smock with long sleeves, a one-piece apron, white plastic straight collar and 8-inch cuffs, black shoes and stockings, and a cap. This uniform was adapted to the times as years rolled along. White shoes and stockings replaced the black ones as requested by the 1941 student body.

A small private home, which had been used as an isolation ward, served as the first Nurses' Home after going through remodelling. The nature of work carried on in the hospital justified more personnel, thus a Nurses' Home was erected and at the present time accommodates fifty Nurses.

SISTER SUPERIOR

Reverend Sister Josephine Boisseau, Superior and Superintendent of the hospital received a thorough preparation for her present responsibilities through teaching for ten years and following her nursing years in France, being first Superintendent of Nurses of St. Joseph's General Hospital, a position which she held for thirty-six years.

"Duty First" seems to be a characteristic that never fails in Sister Josephine. Her kindness, love of people, sincere smile and manner win her the love of all those she meets. When Sister Josephine makes up her mind to do something it is done and done well. No problem is too great or task too large for Sister Superior.

MOTHER GENERAL

February brought us the joy of having Reverend Mother General, Mother Georgette Guet, and her assistant Mother Marie Planchenault, from France, and Mother M. Joseph Rondo, Superior Provincial, from Trochu. Mother General and her assistant came to Canada by aeroplane to visit the Canadian houses and won the affection of all the Sisters and others they met. They showed interest in hospitals, schools and especially in St. Joseph's General Hospital School of Nursing. At their short visit with the Nurses, Mother General compared the nursing schools of France with those of Canada.

Her sincere and maternal approach created a pleasant and friendly attitude which won respect of all those who came in contact with her. The souvenir of this visit will remain in our heart until her return which we hope will not be at too distant a date.

SISTER CECILIA. The responsibility of Superintendent of Nurses rests on the capable shoulders of Sister Cecilia. Among other tasks, she teaches classes, represents St. Joseph's General Hospital at conferences and works on floors. Even though she is busy, Sister Cecilia always has time for a kind word and a smile to all she meets.

SISTER HELEN. Starting an intravenous and teaching Obstetrics and Materia Medica with equal dexterity is Sister Helen. She has the profound love and respect of everyone she works with. No matter how busy Sister Helen is, she always has time to help you with your difficulties. She is never seen without her smile and merry laugh.

SISTER LAURA. During the day, when second floor is abuzz with activity you'll find a very busy and much sought after Sister Laura. Between dishing up meals, starting Tital drainages etc., and keeping an eye on the drug room, she has the hectic job of trying to satisfy nurses with their days off. Second floor Supervisor is a tremendous task and a great worry and responsibility. We take our hats off to you, Sister Laura, for a job well done.

SISTER MARIE AGNES. Sister Marie Agnes is our much respected and loved night Supervisor. Her delicacy and tact in handling all unforeseen events or emergencies could not be easily equalled.

SISTER MADELEINE. After teaching the probies health for several weeks Sister Madeleine was ready for a "rest" at the University of Alberta. We haven't seen too much of her this year as she is after her B.Sc. and from what we've heard she is doing very well too.

TO THE GRADUATING CLASS

Graduation, with its valedictory address, means the end. But in reality it is only the closing of Chapter One preparing the way for each succeeding one.

To each graduand, we say, as the Easterners do, "May the hand of Allah abide with you," in each task you undertake in the future.

HONORARY AWARDS

General Proficiency ----- A. Korzenowski

Highest marks in Theory ----- J. Robertor

Reliability and Nursing Spirit ----- M. Patrick

Medical Ethics ----- G. Eberhardt

Professional Development ----- P. Pshyk

EVELYN ROCQUE. Evelyn was born at Fort Saskatchewan (in a hospital). She spends a greater portion of her time reading when she's not riding around in '54 Buicks. She hopes to get her B.Sc. in nursing.

OLGA LYCHAK. Olga was born with the loveliest pair of blue eyes you ever saw. She often spoils this good feature by too much sleep. Olga could live on ice cream but if she continues her nursing in S. America she won't be able to eat much of it.

MARGARET PATRICK. Midge came to us from Lamont where she was born in 1931. She spends her leisure time reading and listening to good music—not cow-boy. Midge plans to take a P.G. in Surgery in the near future.

ELIZABETH NOSTER. Liz is a very talented young lady as she not only can sing like a bird but crochets her own hats. She liked work in the O.R. best and plans to continue her nursing at the Mayo Clinic.

ROSEMARY ZELLER. Mary prefers nursing men to women especially separate techniques in '36. She spends a lot of her time in the kitchenette making delish sandwiches. She hopes to go to Bermuda to nurse.

ESTHER TRAUDT. Esther is happiest when she is fishing but when she can't do that she'd like to work days in Pediatrics. She hates getting up in morning but once up wears a smile all day.

ALMA KORZENOWSKI. Alma likes nursing in Maternity best—must be the maternal instinct in her. She spends her leisure time trying to avoid work and eating. Her ambition is to make "piles of money".

SOPHIE WARYK. Sophie enjoys dancing, crocheting, and working nights in Pediatrics. She doesn't intend to spend the rest of her life nursing but making some man happy on a little farm.

BARBARA JEAN ROBERTON. Jean can be recognized a mile off by her constant talking and laughing, which everyone misses when she's not around. Her ambition is to make lots of money so she can travel to the ends of the globe.

MURIEL MYHRE. Every chance Muriel gets she goes home. We don't know what the attraction is but we think it is her sister's good cakes. Muriel wants to go north and give first aid to the frost bitten Eskimos.

PHYLLIS PSHYK. Phyllis' favorite pastime is reading and going to shows but if she really has to go to work she prefers Dept. C. When something annoys her, especially alarm clocks, she usually says "O Christmas."

SISTER DOROTHEE. Sister does her work well and always has a winning smile for everyone she meets. She is quiet and sincere and we're all glad she's one of the Seniors we won't lose this fall.

MAGDELENE WOJNAR. We shall always remember her bright smile and her friendly ways even though we suffered her loss on April 5th, 1954.

BERNICE HAGEL. Bert's ambition in life is to found a nursing home to take care of Mrs. Ponech, Mrs. Melnyk, Mabel, Mr. Pook, Mike, and Alec. She spends her leisure trying to find someone for a good card game.

GERTRUDE EBERHARDT. Since coming in training, Gertrude has developed a special liking for crocheting doilies, but she still hates to set her hair and sell tickets. She hopes to nurse in foreign countries some day.

ENID BROWER. Like most people, Enid likes working nights and eating cherry pie. Some time in the future, she would like to try her hand at nursing on an ocean liner.

VALEDICTORY

Mr. Chairman, Your Worship, Rev. Father Burke, representing His Grace, Rev. Members of the Clergy, Rev. Sisters, Dear Parents, and Friends:

It is a privilege and a pleasure to have been elected to speak for our class on this memorable day.

Tonight, as we graduate, a feeling of happiness and elation so crowds our minds that few of us, if any, have a thought for the morrow. It is indeed a joyous celebration which marks a milestone in our chosen profession, and so, we are both grateful and pleased to have each and every one of you here to celebrate with us. Special thanks are due Father Burke for coming to make our Commencement Exercises complete. We are sorry that due to his recent lengthy illness, His Excellency was unable to attend.

Three years ago, as we entered our training school, Graduation seemed so remote. Yet as time passed we eagerly looked forward to this great event. During our training we have met countless friends, had unmeasureable joys, and yes, we've done some of the hardest work we've ever known. However, none of us would have missed this rich portion of our lives.

Though not usually associated with the happiness of Graduation, a touch of sorrow wends its way with us tonight as we think of our dear classmate who no doubt shares from high above our happiness, though she was unable to attain the earthly goal of the three years. Many of you knew Magdelene Wojnar who, after a brief illness departed to take her place with the Eternal Father.

The sudden illness last August of Doctor Svarich caused much concern to the Staff. We have missed him considerably during the past nine months, and sincerely hope he will soon be well enough to return.

The gratitude which we owe tonight is bountiful. May we convey our sentiments first to Almighty God who has called us to this very special vocation. To Him we give our hearts tonight as we thank Him for the call and Preparation. This gratitude which we feel in our hearts goes out in great measure to Sister Superior and the Sisters of the Hospital, the Doctors, the Instructors, and Supervisors; for without their endless efforts our goal could not have been attained. To each and every one of you, each member of this class says "In all sincerity, I thank you."

To the speakers, the artists, the members of the Alumni and Hospital Auxiliary and the citizens of Vegreville who have been so kind we say "Thank you."

Finally, but greatest of all, our heartfelt thanks to our parents. Your advice and encouragement will everlastingly be remembered. We are as proud of you tonight as we hope you are of us.

Roses, diplomas and medals bring to us the realization that tonight we say "Farewell". Farewell to all who have contributed so much to the success and happiness which is ours this evening. To the Sisters who have shown patience and perseverance, and to the Doctors who have given so freely of their time in our experience, we bid Farewell. A fond farewell to the student nurses among whom we have made life-long friends. Our wish for you is success and happiness, and fulfilment of your ambitions.

And now, as we approach the parting of the ways, let us all remember our motto "Semper Fideles"—always faithful—and let it be an everlasting link between us.

We feel confident that you who follow in our footsteps will maintain the traditions dear to our school of nursing.

Back row: A. Séquin, A. Stang, D. Urkow, O. Bruhaug, J. Dromerecki, V. Arthurs, J. Zeller.

OLGA BHUHAUG

Olga Bruhaug comes from Jarow,
A target for cupid's arrow
With flaxen hair and clear blue eyes
A successful future before her lies.

JOAN ZELLER

Without our Joan what would we do
A heart of gold she has it's true,
She trims our locks and mends our clothes
And keeps an eye on room-mate Rose.

CLAIRE REID

A studious girl, good natured too,
Always found where there's work to do.
A nicer girl I've yet to meet,
'Cause our Claire can't be beat.

CATHERINE STANG

Catherine Cecilia from Roseland has come
A lively lass and full of fun.
A pet ambition here we state
Is just to stay up very late.

AMELIA STANG

Fun to work with and nice to know,
She always seems to be on the go.
Her laugh is hearty, you'll agree, no doubt,
Especially after the lights are out.

VALERIE ARTHURS

A dark cute kid with lots of spice
Who likes to keep the boys on ice,
Her flashing smile and merry way
Brightens every patient's day.

ANNIE SEQUIN

Quiet and reserved our Annie is,
And with a vocabulary she's a whiz.
A thoughtful nurse she's proved to be,
And to a heart she's got the key.

DOROTHY McPHEE

Dottie McPhee from Edmonton does come
A friendly miss and full of fun.
No job is too hard for her to do,
And evening entertainment, she likes that too.

JENNY DROMERECKI

A shy sweet lass our Jenny is
Who does her work in such a whiz,
She's quite convinced this is the life
But soon she will be Walter's wife.

ROSEMARY MEYERS

A girl like Rose is a pleasure to meet,
With talents galore, she lacks conceit.
She's pretty and clever and works with a heart,
And when there's work to be done she does her part.

BELLA BARIL

This pretty young girl with plenty of snap,
Works through the day without a mishap,
In singing or working she does excel,
In marriage or career she's bound to do well.

DORIS URKOW

"When a task is once begun
Never leave it till it's done."
With this in mind our Doris works,
And from no duty does she shirk.

CAPPING

Capping—the moment for which we had waited for so long was actually here. Our uniforms and shoes were spotless that night, the result of many feverish hours of preparation. It was hard to believe that one-sixth of our training was over, the part that many people call hard but for us it was new and rewarding. Our parents, the Sisters, and members of the Staff were there to wish us well, and after a short program we were called up to the platform. Our candles were lit and snow white caps were placed on our heads. We were no longer probationers or preclinicals but full-fledged juniors, with more responsibilities.

TEN YEARS HENCE

Through a fortunate inheritance I was left heir to a jet propelled magic carpet. I went out for a test flight one day and before I knew it, I was circling over St. J.G.H. I landed safely on top of the hospital just in time to see Dr. Kuzyk take off in a nifty helicopter. Unaccustomed to this part of the hospital, I followed some stairs until I came to a very modern O.R. I was surprised to see Trudy standing beside the instrument carriage and even more surprised to learn, when I talked to her later, that she was O.R. Supervisor. I hurried down the hall and took the escalator to 2nd. I was shocked by the changes which had occurred but just then Ann came along and decided to take me on a tour. She was at the present, Medical Women's Supervisor. We headed out to the new wing where the doctors' offices were located. We entered the first door on the left. The room was lavishly furnished and behind a mahogany desk sat a pretty receptionist. When I discovered it was Cecile C. we had a short talk.

It was time for mid-morning coffee, so Ann and I made our way through a large rotunda to a cafeteria. At one of the tables sat Ellen just downing her second cup of coffee. We joined her and learned she had been having trouble with the douche machine so was on her way to first to supervise a student giving one. After lunch we took an escalator to first and we soon found ourselves in Maternity. From the hustle we could tell a case was about to come off. In the case room I caught sight of Sr. Marie Therese flying around with sterile basins, etc. Shortly after we learned that Cecile G. was the proud mama of twin girls.

By this time, I was feeling rather tired so we headed for the lounge, which was beautifully decorated and filled with soft music which came from the hands of someone at the baby-grand at the far side of the room. We relaxed and watched TV while we nibbled on some delicious sandwiches that a girl had brought to us. While we were sitting there, Gayla came in and we learned she was on her way to the nurses' home where she gave lectures in Orthopedics. We followed her over and I was amazed at the change in the place. Thick rugs covered the floors, and the rooms looked like pictures out of magazines. We visited the library with its shelves and shelves of books and I was surprised to see no study sheet on the wall. In one corner I spotted Mary who was looking up some material for the following day's clinic. From the window I spied the swimming pool so we hurried out to see the girls who were enjoying the cool water. By the diving board was Doris and a bunch of small children. I learned she was occupational therapist and was teaching the youngsters to swim.

It was nearing dinner time so we started back to the main dining room. In front of us in line was Vicki. She was Medical Men's Supervisor and really liked her work. After dinner we went up to the office with its impressive desks, plush carpets, and electron lighting. While we were there talking to the girls, Rita rushed up. She was Alumni president and was making last minute preparations for the dance that evening. With her was Marge who was married to a successful business man and lived in one of the new swank apartment buildings in Mount Pleasant. I looked at my watch and was dismayed to see what time it was. I was about to leave when I saw Nadia with a child in her arms. She was Pediatric Supervisor and had just got an admission. I remembered what she used to say about Ped., but when I learned how she liked it there I knew she never meant what she had formerly said. Ann heard her buzzer ring, so hurriedly said good-bye and rushed off to the phone. I pressed the button on the escalator and started up. Ahead of me was an efficient looking nurse and when she turned around I saw it was Bridget. She was carrying a book which I noticed was "Psychology and the Nurse" by Bridget Pierce. She was in charge of the psychiatric wing in the hospital and from the short talk I had with her I surmised she liked her work. Like the others I had talked to she was surprised I was still nursing in Aklavik and that I liked my work.

I heard a clock toll five, so I hurriedly retraced my steps to my magic carpet. As the hospital became a mere speck in the distance, I realized what a long way our class had come from the probie days to the goals which we had held for ourselves.

GAY HEARTS

Under the capable leadership of Midge Patrick, the student body of the Gay Hearts undertook numerous tasks and tackled them with the spirit and enthusiasm that befits a group of young nurses. This year's executive consists of:

President ----- Midge Patrick
 Vice-President ----- Rosemary Meyer
 Secretary ----- Doris Criss
 Treasurer ----- Dorothy McPhee

YEARBOOK

The undertaking of producing a Yearbook for the first time was a difficult task but with the support and help of everyone the work involved became more like fun. The staff included:

Editor ----- Shirley Smith
 Assistant Editor ----- Rosemary Meyer
 Circulation Manager ----- Valerie Arthurs
 Advertising Manager ----- Ellen O'Neill
 Entertainment Convener ----- Gayla Bazley

NURSING WITH CHRIST

This earth is one vast hospital,
 A synthesis of pain;
 Thy task to help men, one and all,
 And thus Christ's blessing gain.

Seek not reward from thoughtless men,
 For sacred duty done,
 Thy Lord who healed the lepers ten
 Was thanked by only one.

Thy hands the loathsome needs must touch,
 Yet make thy heart a shrine
 Pure as the snow, for men know such
 Was Christ, and Christ is thine.

Sealed with the seal of Christ the King,
 Be of the works the least,
 Unstained to Him the offering bring
 Oh healing, like a priest.

SODALITY OF THE IMMACULATE HEART OF MARY

This year the Catholic Student Body has added to their spirited activities by forming the Sodality of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. The objective of this sodality is to increase devotion to our Blessed Mother in this the Marian Year. Although we were late in organizing this group it has proven very successful and we hope to have an ever increasing and active group. We owe a special thanks to the organizers and executive who devoted much of their time in this worthy objective.

DON'T QUIT

When things go wrong, as they sometimes will,
 When the road you're trudging seems all uphill,
 When the funds are low and the debts are high,
 And you want to smile but you have to sigh,
 When care is pressing you down a bit,
 Rest if you must, but don't you quit,
 Life is queer with its twists and turns,
 As everyone of us sometimes learns,
 And many a failure turns about,
 When he might have won had he stuck it out,
 Don't give up though the pace seems slow—
 You may succeed with another blow.

Often the goal is nearer than
 It seems to a faint and faltering man.
 Often the struggler has given up
 When he might have captured the victor's cup,
 And he learned too late, when the night slipped down,
 How close he was to the golden crown.
 Success is failure turned inside out—
 The silver tints of the clouds of doubt
 And you can never tell how close you are
 It may be near when it seems afar:
 So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit
 It's when things seem worst that you mustn't quit.
